

nanotechnology can protect both your health and home

Do you know...

that according to Chinese environmental experts the annual premature deaths attributable to outdoor air pollution are likely to reach 550,000 in 2020?

Recommended by David Vincenzi MD, head physician of the Department of Oncology at the state hospital in Genoa, Italy.

respilon AIR[®]

LIFE'S WORTH IT

Don't let your kids suffer from allergic reactions to pollen = you can leave your windows open without letting in a single harmful particle.

Dust proof window membrane means that you can easily dry clean your shirts inside your house without worrying about dust spoils.

Protect your kids brain. Experts believe that PM2.5 may affect your brain by harming your heart. It may not be getting enough oxygen and nutrients from the blood your heart pumps out.

Don't let intensive sun hurt your skin. RESPILON AIR[®] can also shield you from intense sunshine.

Fight all the viruses and bacteria from outside and create a safe environment for your family. All without constant need of sweeping dust and dirt.

Practical packaging and service support makes installation really easy.

Find out more information, download studies and test results at www.respilon.com